RapidRoll® 3000 Enhances Service for the Southeast's Largest Mercedes-Benz Dealer

Atlanta Classic Cars, located in suburban Duluth, Georgia, is the largest Mercedes-Benz dealer in the Southeastern United States. They opened the doors to their fifteen million dollar facility in July of 2003, and then followed up with a new state-of-the-art Collision Center, the only one of its kind in the Atlanta area, in the summer of 2005.

When Atlanta Classic Cars was researching doors for their Collision Center entrance and exit, they looked for doors that would operate quickly and efficiently. The Collision Center is air conditioned in the summer, and heated in the winter, so it was important to find a door that would open and close rapidly in order to maintain the environment inside the building.

Atlanta Classic Cars chose the innovative RapidRoll® 3000 High Performance Industrial Door from Albany Door Systems. The RapidRoll® 3000 runs at remarkably fast speeds of up to 80 inches per second. Albany's unique DiscDrive® design and soft-start soft-stop technology allow for dependable operation cycle after cycle greatly minimizing facility maintenance costs.

Collision Center technicians are able to drive vehicles in and out of the building quickly and safely with the aid of motion sensing actuators located above the outside and inside of both doors. Safeties including Albany's exclusive Contactless Safety Edge® pre-running photocell and a side frame integrated door line photocell ensure that the doors will not impact people or vehicles. Effective actuating systems and the amazing speed of the RapidRoll® 3000 combine to greatly enhance workplace flow and preserve the interior environment for Atlanta Classic Cars' Collision Center.

"The RapidRoll® 3000 is a high-quality door that gives a high-quality appearance. Based on our experience, I'm sure that we would go with Albany again."
